Clean Clothes Campaign

Garment workers can't feed their families and fashion brands have turned their backs.

Brands underpaid the people who make their clothes for decades. Now they are making these workers pay the price for the pandemic.

Join us in telling H&M, Nike, Primark and Uniqlo:

1. #RespectLabourRights

End union busting and protect workers' right to organise and bargain collectively.

2. #PayYourWorkers

Pay the people who make your clothes their full wages and make sure workers are never left penniless again by contributing to a severance guarantee fund.

3. by paying #10CentsMore

Doing the right thing only costs 10 cents per t-shirt, so why are brands still refusing to act?
